Have you seen our new website?

After your feedback from the summer parent questionnaires we realised that we needed to look into further ways to keep you informed about school events and information. Over the summer we have been designing a new website and it was launched last week. It is not the finished article, staff are slowly adding detail and new articles to aid communication with you.

This week we have uploaded:

The children are really getting to grips with our new cursive handwriting style. We are hoping that this new initiative will take our writing to another level! If you need any resources or information about this then feel free to ask staff during your child's class drop in or email the school to request information via the contact us page on the website .

World's Biggest Coffee Morning

On Friday next week, 29th September, we are taking part in the 'World's Biggest Coffee Morning/Afternoon' at 2.30 pm to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support. You are all invited to come and join us for a cup of coffee/ tea and sample a wide selection of delicious cakes and biscuits in our school hall. We would appreciate any donations of cakes/biscuits whether homemade or shop bought. Please send any donations by Thursday, 28th September.

In order to raise even more money this year we would like the children to participate in a Non-uniform day as well. If they could possibly wear green, purple and/or white to represent the colours of the cake morning and a donation of £1 would be greatly appreciated.
